

219-231 Botany Road Waterloo NSW

?Compared to many of the other developments in Waterloo and Green Square, The Botany has a distinctively boutique feel-while remaining true to the industrial roots of the area. Its 132 apartments are spread across two buildings, with just three to four apartments on each floor.

Within each residence, The Botany fuses industrial style with a touch of inner-city Scandinavian design. Warm whites, natural timbers, pale colours and abundant light brighten each room, providing the perfect blank canvas upon which to stamp your own style. As you move through each day, enjoy the best of European appliances and premium fixtures-and feel right at home.

Within one of Sydney's hippest new fashion, food and lifestyle destinations, a bold new residential precinct is emerging. The Botany, Waterloo, redefines industrial chic
